

Tony,

Here we go. Praise, excitement, anticipation in the air. Dust is flying from the dancing. Many pastors from the conference are gathered with us to dive into God's miracle realm thru praying. We gave a short message on how the love of God is tangible and how He will touch their bodies. Casey had some words of knowledge so he gave them out and about 30 people came out of the crowd for prayer. I got the pastors engaged immediately. There were like 6 of them on each person. I guess they felt better, at least for this first round, praying with a big team. I was facilitating as they still had questions and some traditions started surfacing again that we had to fix. They seemed to be more bold with me, at least to a measure, standing with them. All glory to God, as best I could tell we had at least 99% miracle healings tonight.

As each healing was occurring, we directed them to the microphone, where they announced what God had just done. With each testimony, the crowd got more and more excited. The faith atmosphere was swelling. After about 20 testimonies we knew it was time to give a call for SALVATION. About 50% of the people gathered there tonight came forward to receive Jesus as Lord and Savior. The rest of the folks were already saved. Hallelujah!!

There were many, many people receiving healing and deliverance tonight. It was an "Instantly" night where the Anointing was so strong that it was just all happening. Here are a few:

- A fairly young man comes with no shoes on. In Africa you don't think too much of that as many people, especially in bush areas, walk without shoes as a normal practice. Well, this man had somehow damaged his feet and has been in pain, totally unable to put on shoes, for last 17 years. In a moment he started jumping and stomping on his feet and then rejoicing for the healing that had come to him. He ran off (most likely to get a pair of shoes or sneakers)!
- An older man dragged himself thru the crowd to get to us for prayer. He just kept point to his left side from waist to foot. He spoke of bad pain and that he was almost totally paralyzed for the last 4 years. He said no one could help him. We told him that Jesus could and to watch. He had such a look of despair and defeat on his face and his mouth was turned down, like he hadn't smiled in many years. I told the pastors to keep their eyes open while praying and to watch this man's expressions. His face told the story and the Anointing came quickly and life was poured into his hip and leg. His lips turned up to a smile and he literally started beaming. I'm talking shining here now! The pastors laughed and laughed as they watch this happen. Joy filled the air as this man walked away totally normal and without any pain.
- A woman came asking for prayer for her back. I looked at her and thought, this is strange, why isn't she asking for prayer for this very obvious, very large tumor in her abdomen? We prayed for the back and it instantly got healed. Then the pastors asked about the tumor. She had it for the last 7 years. It stuck out like she had a basketball under her shirt. We prayed, now get this: We did NOT see the tumor shrink when we prayed, but there was no longer any discomfort there. I thought of the 10 lepers that came to Jesus for healing and it manifested as they walked away. After prayer, AS this lady was walking away to the microphone to give testimony, the tumor completely DISAPPEARED !!! Yeah God!!!

My favorite God miracle for the night: A mother brought her young daughter maybe 7 years old. I sent one pastor after another over to the lady to pray for her daughter. They would pray a little bit, then leave. After several pastors I looked and the mother was still standing there with her arm around her daughter, not moving. I went over to her and asked what was happening. She took the right arm of her daughter, lifted it up and then let go. The little arm fell straight down limp to her side. This arm and hand was about ½ the size of her other arm. I couldn't quite understand the mother, but understood enough to know that her daughter's left arm and hand was totally paralyzed and unusable. I was down on the ground, on my knees looking the little girl in the eyes. Wow, my heart melted with the love of the Lord for her. I felt His Compassion being released for her. I put her little arm in my hands and began to pray, breaking the power of the curse and crippling spirit on her life. Her little eyes just pierced right thru me, right into my heart. Oh God! She just focused on me, never budging an inch. After I prayed a little, I gently put her arm back down and said "Lift your arm, in Jesus Name!" BAM, her arm shot up in the air. Now momma came alive and got excited! I put my finger in her tiny hand and said squeeze my finger. BAM, her fingers wrapped around my finger and I felt the squeeze pressure of a hand full of life! I just stayed kneeling there for a few moments, caught up in what God had just done! Hallelujah, Hallelujah, Hallelujah!!!

Casey:

How many of you remember the movie Forest Gump? In the beginning of the movie when he was in leg braces and his mom called them his magic legs. Well for most of you that know me and for those of you that don't I had an accident at work and cut off the tip of my finger at the first knuckle. They weren't going to let me go on this mission trip because of the injury to my hand, but God is way bigger. During the ministry time this morning I felt something strange in my finger so I unwrapped it to check it out. Wouldn't you know the finger that the doctor said would never have feeling or be able to bend at the first knuckle now has full feeling and is beginning to move. Now that's the Jesus I know. Nobody prayed just the anointing in that small church and a step of faith on my part. Ha ha love it. Anyways back to the reference to forest Gump, Tony calls my finger my magic finger and tonight I had a deaf child standing in front of me. So what did I do? I stuck that finger in his ear and instantly the ear opened so I turned him around and stuck it into his other ear and again instantly that ear opened too. If you can't have fun with your Daddy then you are missing out. We know it has nothing to do with a magic finger just the miraculous from the Father. Although I wish I had a video to the look on this kids face as this knurly finger was coming right at him. Lol priceless just priceless.

The crowd was real hungry for a touch from God tonight and they all were pressing into us and pushed me back into the drum set so I had nowhere to go. They were very patient as they waited for their turn and the excitement built with each healing they witnessed knowing they would be next. Tonight was an instantly and that was a good thing or we would have been praying way longer than we did. I prayed for several people that had back aches and a ton of stomach aches. But by far the most memorable were the two deaf children that received total healing. Our evening ended as Tony and I prayed for this drunken man. One of his legs was shorter or longer depending on how you look at it. They were about 4" different well they were until we finished praying for him. This was the first time I have ever witnessed someone feeling their leg grow out. The look on his face was kind of painful but he never said a thing but you could definitely tell he knew something was happening to his leg, drunk or not. God you are so awesome.
