

Mission to the Philippines Magdum, Tagum City, Davao Del Norte

Village Outreach Youth Rally Evening, Day 4, Friday, September 21, 2012

Casey:

Tonight we went to an outreach service that was being held in the city by the market. It was in a building up on the second floor and this place was packed out. The worship team was once again made up of older youth and did they have a great anointing for worship. I had no idea what we were going to do so I didn't have my flags...bummer. They type and style of music they were playing was like we were at a Hillsong United\IHOP prayer room meeting. You could get lost in worship so fast it was great. They let the worship flow for quite a while too. I could have soaked there all night, but they wanted us to share something with the people there. Tony and I both shared or rather bragged on God for a while and how He will protect you as you go for Him. When we were done they wanted us to pray for who ever wanted prayer and this turned out into a repeat of last night. The hunger for Jesus and the longing for the touch from Him is incredible. It wasn't long and there were bodies all over the floor crying out to Jesus. This never gets old right Rev. Tony? J

Tony:

Sure Rev. Casey J , we were honored tonight and presented plaques for the work of God we did in the City these days. Nothing we are looking for but give all thanks to God for what He has done. I'm beginning to get the sense that God is doing something extraordinary with the youth of this nation and that the next great move of God will be thru mostly young people.

They had us speaking without an interpreter tonight so Casey and I just had fun sharing God stories of how He supernaturally protected us while we have been steadfast in serving and going for Him. I don't know how much they understood, but I asked a pastor to ask them if they wanted prayer. Here they come and BAM, it was like dynamite went off. I had people surprising me and falling into me while I was praying for them. The first lady hit the deck so hard her high heels went flying thru the air. Again we had those just being baptized in the Holy Spirit and we basically got out of their way and left them into Gods Hands.

Man oh man, now this is a youth rally! Hallelujah!