Worship Service and Day 2 Tribal Pastors Conference, Sunday, September 23, 2012

Tony:

Again I thank God for all of you that have prayed this mission thru. Even the momentary 5 second prayer of "God, we bless what is in Your heart to do" when coming in the Spirit, is very, very powerful. Thank you all so much.

We had to shorten this conference by one day and finish it all up today as the buses needed to leave first thing Monday morning to take them back to the mountains. So, this was 9 hours of meetings today. Hard to imagine how that could happen, unless you are part of it, when it seemed like maybe a couple of hours.

During Sunday morning worship service, "Cass Eh", that's how they pronounce Casey, gave a great message on the authority and power we have thru Christ in the life of David. Fitting for what God was going to do today. We experienced worship tribal style, so much purity and heart! Then more teaching on the authority of the believer and deliverance, then right into impartation service.

Of all the things we have been called to do, by far the greatest impact on the lives of those we come to minister to and to train & equip, happens during the impartation prayer. We have seen so many great outpourings of The Spirit, but there is a clear increase in how He is touching "the hungry ones."

So again, I will attempt to explain the unexplainable, attempt to put to words what is so totally of God and has its origin and power not of man or this world, but in the Heart of Our Loving Father.

There were hundreds that we prayed for, we began first with the pastors, then the various church leaders, then into other adults, then on to the youth. It seemed there was someone organizing how the people lined up. We release prophetic words and impartation of The Holy Ghost to all. At first it seemed not all were going to receive as the anointing seemed to be bouncing back at me and I could barely stand, but most of those we were praying for were still standing. Then all of a sudden, something happened, it was like lightning bolts were striking everywhere. I heard the sounds of repentance and revival as people all over this place began crying out to God. I mean, really crying out to God. It was the sound of Heaven having invaded this place, the atmosphere in this place and every hungry heart.

There were new worship leaders that took over during impartation time and I heard and felt the presence of angels singing with them and the power of Holy Spirit on every word of the worship. As I went down the line praying for the people and go to the side where the worship team was, the vibration in my body would intensify. Glory to God!

When the lightning of Heaven hit, then I began to spend almost all of the time for next hundreds of people on the floor praying over them as Casey was ahead of me experiencing the initial wave of power putting the people on the floor. I believe many, if not all, of them were given the gift of interpretation from our English language into their native tongue. I am convinced that they were hearing our prayers clearly in their language. They were responding with loud cries and increased tears to specific words coming to them from Holy Spirit. As I crawled to the ear of the next person on the floor there was a pool of tears alongside their head. Occasionally, there was one here and there still standing and I would get up off the floor to pray for that one, as I took their hands in mine I felt their tears pouring out on to my up there this morning which is a new thing for me. Praise God He got all the glory this morning. After the service we broke for lunch and then right back into the teaching.

This afternoon Tony taught on deliverance and the authority they have as believers in Jesus. And again we gave them demonstrations on what deliverance looks like as I took Tony through a mock deliverance. This really makes it so easy for them to understand the teaching. Then we had them team up and take each other through deliverance. This is going to be a great tool for them to take back to their mountain villages and help set the captives free.

Now as far as the last session goes I have NEVER been in or felt anything like this before, it was most overwhelming. It is being made clear that God wants and is going to use the youth of this nation to bring Him glory. I am talking about standing and moving in the glory of God for hours as we prayed over each person. All I can say is it felt like a spring of living water flowing out of me as we were imparting the Spirit of the living God into them. There really are no words that can accurately explain what this feels like, but it sure felt awesome and left me so humbled and hungry for more of Jesus. To think this is just the tip of the ice berg of what is available for us and if we will go for Him...I WILL GO, I WILL GO.

We must have had over three hundred people that we prayed for this evening and 80% of them were the youth. My heart started for the youth and still today they hold such a soft spot in my heart, and to be so blessed to be in a great move of God over them last night is priceless. It didn't matter if they were six years old or an older teenager they all were crying out for God. As I was praying for them their tears were soaking my hands and arms like as if you were outside in the rain. Wow this is so hard to write about it was just so holy what was happening to them. Each one of them ended up on the floor weeping and weeping in the Presence of God, all of them seeking and crying out for more of Him. There were actual puddles on the floor from all the tears. Revival has come to these children and they will never be the same. The evening finished by us praying over the worship team and imparting into them. Like all the other youth they too ended up on the floor crying, oh God. The Holy Spirit then led me to take out the flags and fly them over the worship team as they soaked in His Presence. Thank you Lord for such an awesome experience in You.

Thank you to everyone that has been praying for us on this mission trip I pray and speak a full blessing over all of you. Thank you, Blessings

The last day(Sunday) of the second conference for the tribal peoples. In the morning, Brother Casey brought the message about the story of David and Goliath. The teaching all about, being prepared all the time, and we have to advance the attack against the enemy. The stone David picked up for a sling shot toward the enemy is part of the big rock which applied today in the life of a Christian is related to our Lord Jesus-giving His believer the authority and power. The message further gives us teachings to learn by the Holy Spirit as Brother Casey continue imparting wonderful insights about using authority and power which is only part of the Authority and Power from Jesus Christ our Lord. Thank you Lord!

In the afternoon, Pastor Tony started with the teachings on the authority and power as well as on the deliverance. My heart really confirmed to see the tribal brothers and sisters who lived in the mountain literally need all the teachings, and by giving their testimonies, they thanked God for sending His servants Pastor Tony and Brother Casey in the conference. They shared how they had learned so much of practical truth and they have been changed. One Pastor gives testimony about his left leg, I can see in his eyes joy for the healing, he is thanking the Lord for the healing, and it just happened when Brother Casey touched him and prayed, he told the crowd. So many lives touched!

Impartation time, this indeed the climax of every conference which the people must be imparted what was given from His servants Pastor Tony and Brother Casey which also be given to those who would willing to risk faith to bless others and become an instrument of God's Power and Love to the salvation of their souls. I whisper to God, in prayer for the people who came, most of them were come from the mountain that we hauled by busses to attend this meeting. There were lining up, pastors, then church leaders, then older youth then children ages 6 to 15, and most of them were vibrating, crying out to God and manifesting the goodness of God, even before they receive prayer. The approval of God was on their submission to His Presence and Power to go and bless others. I have sensed, God is no respecter of persons, He calls to those He chooses before the foundation of the world. In the side, I kept praying backing up Pastor Tony and Brother Casey strength, I was thanking the Holy Spirit for sustaining them strength doing the highest call. Amen Lord.

This morning we went back to New Corella for the second day of the conference. The team stayed in the morning during the morning service, indeed I have heard very powerful message from the servant of God Brother Casey. In the afternoon, I was with Sister Chennie for the prayer time, one woman we prayed for kidney problem. We asked her whether she just have it checked by her doctor, she said yes, and the doctor advised her for dialysis because her kidneys were shutting down for some reason, and so we prayed 3 times and we asked her, and said she felt warm inside moving in her kidneys, also her problem with numbness in her legs left her and healing came to her. After prayer, we told her to go to the doctor and have it check again and expect miracles and healing from God. She agreed and knew that God had done the work.

In the impartation, I was amazed that a lot of children came and one little boy maybe 8 years old, I was asking him why he joined in front with rest who came, he replied "I want to be blessed to worship God and pray for other who are sick and I have learned that it simply putting my hand to the sick." I was blessed to hear the boy saying that to me. At the back of the boy there were many more boys and girls and they responded to me, "We want pray for others because there is no doctor in the mountain." Another set of children lined up for impartation after being imparted they all them fell down. This was so amazing to see and experience. When I went to bed, the Lord gave me a vision in my dream. A boy going up in High Mountain and when he passed by a small hut, the boy heard a sound inside the hut. The boy knew there is sick person, so he went back his way and called the other children saying "come, there is a sick person inside the hut!" And so, all of them went to the hut... and there I woke up. I just ended up my dream when the children went their way toward the hut. This morning, I awakened relating the dream of what was happen during the impartation. I thank you Lord for calling these kids to do your Will. For this, I expect a lot of things to happen in the hands of the boys and girls using the gift they have just received that night from Pastor Tony and Brother Casey. Praise God!

After the Sunday worship, in the afternoon Pastor Tony taught the teachings on Deliverance and then the tribe did practice right after the teaching. In the impartation time, God is so wonderful for He made me amazed of what I saw, as I assisting them, I experienced them falling down in the floor, and feeling the power of God. There were men and women with the children came to be imparted, I know they knew the God felt the longing of their hearts to experience Him powerfully. Some of them yelling and crying toward God, all of them crying and weeping. God heard them for His promises, bringing fulfillment to anyone who would come to Him. I felt and sensed that night the Holy Spirit filled of all them and no one was left without their thirst of His power and love being totally fulfilled. I love to see them really coming to God reverently. Halleluiah!
